

Making Classrooms Interactive: Creating a Positive Interactive Learning Experience

Wednesday, June 6, 2012

11:50 am to 12:40 pm

Room: Classroom 1208 Building B, Broadway

Facilitator: Jason Ellis, Education Specialist, Turning Technologies Canada

Please come and join Jason Ellis for a fun and interactive session that will introduce the potential benefits a student response system can provide in the classroom setting. It will cover topics such as how to get started, basic design and ways to implement the technology and best practices as supported by research. Turning Technologies Canada is launching exciting new software and this will be demonstrated during the session. Oh and did we mention prizes?

Jason Ellis is an Education Specialist with Turning Technologies Canada. He has several years experience of making learning interactive from coast to coast. He is passionate about Educational Technology and enjoys demonstrating what it can unlock in a classroom setting.

Attendance is by Drop-in! Don't forget to bring your lunch!

For more information regarding workshops offered by the Centre for Instructional Development, please visit <http://cid.vcc.ca>

