

Student Engagement Techniques Part 3

Tuesday, January 29, 2013

11:50 am to 12:40 pm

Room: 1227 Broadway Building B

Facilitator: Bob Aitken, School of Instructor Education, VCC

Students learn more when they are actively engaged in learning, rather than passively listening. The Student Engagement Techniques series is a three part series of workshops that will explore different techniques that instructors can use to get students actively engaged in learning.

Part 3: Role plays and their variations, Jigsaw and Ethical Dilemmas

These three techniques can be used in most courses to increase student interest and involvement. We will demonstrate them and allow participants to discuss how they could use them in their own instruction.

Attendance is by registration! To register and for more information regarding workshops offered by the Centre for Instructional Development, please visit:
