

Learn @ Lunch Workshops

Marking Group Work

Wednesday, January 25, 2012

11:50 am to 12:40 pm Room 5043 Broadway - A

Facilitator: Doug Mauger, Education and Training Consultant - School of Instructor Education
Vancouver Community College

Pat had been reading that co-operative learning brings about deeper learning and reflects all the positive benefits of social learning theories and learner-centred education. Many of Pat's colleagues have group projects in their courses and they seem to like the concept. In the next course Pat created a group project worth 25% of the course mark; each student in the group would receive the same mark. This would considerably reduce the marking workload, thus it was perceived as a win-win situation for Pat and the students.

What are some implications of Pat's choices?

Come to the workshop and find out about these implications.

Attendance by Drop-in. Don't forget to bring your lunch!

For more information regarding workshops offered by the Centre for Instructional Development, please visit

<http://cid.vcc.ca>

Centre for Instructional
Development

<http://cid.vcc.ca>